

ST CHAD'S NEWSLETTER

JANUARY

A message from Mrs. Smith

Where has this term gone? Our school choir went to Young Voices early in January and were brilliant. We had Reception parent lunches last week along with our book sharing evening and it was really nice to chat to those of you who could attend. Our YR5's spent the week at Laches Wood and had a wonderful time. Miss Groucott (a trainee from Worcester University) has been teaching YR2 in her teaching final placement and doing a fabulous job alongside Miss Board and the YR2 team. Our children have been working really hard with their learning and I have given out lots of gold Headteacher stickers. We are busy making plans for next half term too...our Easter celebrations are coming along nicely, YR4 go away on their residential and I am taking six of our children on our Children's Pilgrimage to Walsingham in early March. Thank you for your continuing support. Keep coming to talk and share if you need to.

With every blessing, Mrs Smith

YOUNG VOICES

Our wonderful St Chad's choir, led by Miss Board, took part in Young Voices. This has been the 10th time Miss Board has taken choir along and said this year's was the best one yet! Creating one massive choir, hundreds of children took part in a huge performance at the Resorts World Arena. Thank you to all our brilliant children and staff involved. Thank you to our parents who came along to watch and for listening to lots of singing at home too!

WOW MOMENTS

Year 6 are understanding diffusion and osmosis this afternoon through skittles and gummy worms.

This week Reception have shared the book The Gingerbread Man, they had lots of fun making gingerbread houses.

Year 3 have experimented with complementary colours. They have created colour wheels and explored different 'hues'.

Key Messages

- Please be careful when parking and reversing along the road outside school during drop off and pick up time.
- We ask that you do not email teachers directly, please email the school office, stating who the email is for. Emails will be forwarded onto the relevant teacher. Thank you.
- Please ensure you contact the school office if someone else will be collecting your child from school. Our office staff can then pass the message onto the relevant teacher.
